

Comfort

Dear Blessed One,

Oh, how I yearn to bless you and comfort you in your times of sadness. Is your heart hurting and your mind attacked by all the 'whys' and 'if onlys'? Turn to me and seek my help. I will surely bear your burdens with you. My life on earth also included great sadness as I observed and experienced the powers of darkness and death at work on the earth. My faith in our Father and His plan for redemption and eternal life comforted and carried me through my life and death here as well as into His Kingdom where there is no darkness or death. Let me carry your grief and pain. Let me share my faith and trust with you so you can endure to the end and be healed, delivered, preserved – safe and sound.

Yours in love,

Jesus
