

Rejoicing

Dear Joyful One,

I want you to be able to rejoice in the truth that YOU ARE LOVED. In the morning and at night, in good times and bad. My love is always present. As I've shown you by my life and spoken to you in my Word, love is the ultimate. It is the beginning and the end and all that's in between. It births fullness of joy in your heart like nothing else can. Possessions pass away and fame is fleeting, but love lasts forever. Look up into my face for I will always be there calling you, caring, comforting and cheering you on. Daily rejoice with me in how our life of love wins over the death dealing forces of darkness. I have defeated them on the cross and I share that victory with you. Praise and rejoicing always overpowers the darkness in and around you. Try it now and see.

Yours happily ever after,

Jesus
