

Victory

Dear Victorious One,

You are so precious in my sight. You are my beloved and that is beyond all that is real and all circumstances. From My perspective, there are no successes or failures. There is life offered at all times. What are failures in the world's eyes are opportunities in Mine. I only refine and prune. I never have destruction or condemnation in mind.

You belong to Me and the path I have for you to walk is forward and upward. My grace and provision are ALWAYS sufficient. I will take care of you as I do the birds of the air. I will show you things and use you in ways you cannot imagine (so don't even try to). Trust me and be brave. The best is yet to come!

*Love,
Jesus*
